

THE ARRETON & OAKFIELD FEDERATION PSHE POLICY STATEMENT & GUIDANCE

November 2017

COMMITTEE: LEARNING COMMITTEE

AGENDA REFERENCE: 23 November 2017 – Agenda reference 11

DATE APPROVED: 23 November 2017

DATE OF REVIEW: SEPTEMBER 2020

Policy statement

Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE), and Citizenship is concerned with providing pupils with the knowledge, skills and understanding to play an effective role in society. It helps them become informed, thoughtful and responsible individuals who are aware of their duties and rights. It also promotes their spiritual, personal, moral, social and cultural development, which enables them to flourish and play an active and healthy part in the life of our school, their community (including learning about British values) and the world.

This PSHE guidance document supports the vision and values of each school:

Our vision is for the best learning for all within a safe, happy and stimulating environment

We aim to encourage our core Christian values and independence within a caring Christian ethos where everyone is supported in becoming the best that they can be.

Oakfield Core Values: Love, Trust, Hope and Honesty

Arreton Core Values: Perseverance, Friendship and Honesty

Introduction

Personal, Social and Health Education (PSHE) and Citizenship including the promotion of British Values, and is the corner stone of the schools' ethos. This guidance should be read in conjunction with each school's mission statement and values and the Curriculum Statement.

P.S.H.E. and Citizenship is the development of personal, social, emotional and health skills, qualities, attitudes, knowledge and understanding in relation to self and society. The PSHE and Citizenship curriculum enables us to support pupils to recognise and manage risk and make safer choices. This can also include where they may be at risk of inappropriate influences such as radicalisation or extreme ideology, whilst retaining and recognising and appreciating the global society that we live in today.

Some components of P.S.H.E. and Citizenship are knowledge-based and are taught (e.g. Drug Education and Sex and Relationship Education). For these we have specific programmes of work. Other aspects cover our pastoral care system, welfare procedures, discipline structure and our behaviour support.

Collective Worship is a key part of daily life in school and presents opportunities to contextualise, support and develop P.S.H.E. and Citizenship. This includes the opportunity for both spiritual development and personal reflection.

Some aspects of P.S.H.E. and Citizenship are dealt with in specific year groups, as outlined in year group guidance in Appendix A. Each teacher is responsible for the whole child, which includes a supportive approach towards the unique emotional and behavioural needs of individuals.

Advice and support are always available from the PSHE lead in both schools, SENCO, class teachers and teaching assistants to ensure that we always maintain our inclusive ethos, which includes pupils with Special Educational Needs and Disabilities (SEND), English as an Additional Language (EAL) and Social, Emotional and Mental Health needs (SEMH).

Teaching about personal safety and healthy relationships as part of PSHE contributes to how we approach the safeguarding of pupils. It helps pupils to recognise when they and others are at risk and equips them with the skills, strategies and language they need to take appropriate action and make safe choices. In relation to ensuring that pupils are kept informed and aware of the risks of radicalisation we will, through the delivery of PHSE in our federation, enable them to know where to get help and support and will equip them to explore social and political issues in a safe and secure environment. The development of these skills will form part of enabling pupils to live and be part of a democratic society.

Aims

- to provide sound pastoral care;
- to promote positive attitudes and values; including democracy and rule of law
- to provide equality of opportunities;
- to foster good relationships;
- to provide opportunities for awe and wonder;
- to develop spiritual and moral awareness; and individual liberty
- to encourage a healthy lifestyle; to value cultural diversity; (mutual respect and tolerance of those with different faiths and beliefs);
- to foster links with parents and the community;
- to develop skills in communicating ideas, opinions and beliefs;
- to support and enhance emotional and mental health wellbeing

Entitlement

All children irrespective of gender, ability, age, ethnicity, cultural background and social circumstances have an equal entitlement to P.S.H.E. and Citizenship across the Federation. Our pastoral care systems aim to ensure that all children are treated kindly, equally and fairly.

All children are entitled to learning opportunities which:-

- explore values and beliefs, which influence individuals and their relationships with others and the wider world;
- help children to respond to their present lives and prepare them for life beyond the Federation;
- emphasise practical activities, decision making, learning through experience;
- provide relevant ways in which life skills might be developed;
- develop community links.

Core Themes – to support teaching and learning

Resources

The child's class teacher and other staff can be a very effective role model. Staff will therefore have high expectations of themselves, as well as of the children.

End of Key Stage assessment forms for PSHE are available in Appendix B as an assessment aid for teachers to use to assess learning in all of the core themes.

P.S.H.E. and Citizenship resources; pictures, DVDs, books, photographs and reference manuals, including materials to support Drug Education, Health Education, Sex & Relationship Education and Safety. These are available from each school PSHE lead member of staff.

We welcome support and advice from professionals to help with planning certain elements of PSHE and Citizenship. The school nurse service, police and fire service regularly support our schools.

This document has been developed using information, advice and guidance from Hampshire County Council and the PSHE Association 2017.

Appendix C – SRE Policy Statement and guidance

SRE Policy Statement November 2017

At Arreton and Oakfield Federation we are committed to ensuring that the pupils in our care have the information, education, guidance, support and services they need to develop relationships based on respect for self and others.

Positive relationships and sexual health are central to the emotional health and wellbeing of children. We provide opportunities to raise awareness of the changes that their body goes through.

SRE will be delivered to all pupils as appropriate through the core values of our PSHE curriculum.
